EXPLORE

On behalf of the citizens of La Crosse, it is my pleasure to welcome you to our beautiful city in Western Wisconsin.

La Crosse is a wonderful community bordered by rolling bluffs to the east and the mighty Mississippi River to the west. Our historic town features exciting new developments, modern conveniences, and enlivened stores, restaurants, and galleries.

The timeless beauty of our natural resources begs you to boat along our splendid riverways, bike our many woodland and urban trails, drive atop our scenic bluffs, stroll through our beautiful parks – the possibilities are endless! Our friendly, hospitable people are proud and pleased to share with you our wonderful city. We invite you to visit us, and we know you'll want to return again and again.

-Tim Kabat, Mayor

Whether your interests include boating, biking or bird watching, French Island has something to offer everyone. With its natural geographical beauty, visitors find it hard not to stop and look us over. For a fantastic view of a sunset all year long, please visit our observation deck overlooking Lake Onalaska on our northern borders. Since we are an island, we have some of the best fishing opportunities in the entire state of Wisconsin. The winter season offers cross country skiing, ice fishing and snowmobiling.

The majestic bluffs of Minnesota provide a natural haven to the eagle, which we can watch fishing in the open waters of the Black River on our eastern border. Many visitors stop to take advantage of our local Thomasville Gallery and the Company Store Outlet located just off the Interstate on Sky Harbour Drive. Also located on Sky Harbour Drive is a Days Inn which offers rest for weary travelers and rooms for meetings or gatherings of all sorts. We look forward to your visit and wish to welcome you to the Town of Campbell.

-Scott Johnson, Chairman, Town of Campbell

Our Unique

HISTORY

Legend has it that the French saw the Native Americans playing a game with a curved stick and leather ball and called the game "la crosse."

The region soon became known as Prairie La Crosse.

The city charter was signed on March 14, 1856 and the area saw growth from steamboat traffic, fur trading, lumber and brewing companies.

As the ice melted and the glacier receded northwards, the water runoff cut through the limestone, creating rivers, lakes and the beautiful bluffs and coulees of the region. The Mississippi, Black and La Crosse Rivers, all which converge at the north end of Riverside Park in Historic Downtown La Crosse, are a product of this process.

French explorers, traders and missionaries were the first Europeans to make contact with the Native American tribes in Wisconsin. In 1680, Robert Cavalier Sieur de la Salle, driven by a passion to explore North America, sent a few of his exploration party up the Mississippi River from the Illinois River to search for the source of the Mississippi. It was this group, Michel Accau, Antoine Auguel, Father Louis Hennepin and others, that first paddled into the Upper Mississippi River region. They described "a pretty large river called the Ouisconsin or Wisconsin" and another river named by the Native Americans as "the Chebadeba, that is, the Black River".

The Black River was adjacent to an area that was mostly flat prairie and was used by Native Americans to gather for trade, social activities and playing traditional Native American games. Legend has it that the French saw the Native Americans playing a game with a curved stick and leather ball and called the game "la crosse." The original source of the word is uncertain but French bishops carried a long, intricately carved stick that had a curled loop at the top. The French word for the stick was "la crozier" (la crow-zee-ay). The bishop's crook looked remarkably like the sticks the Indians used in playing their game. The region soon became known as Prairie La Crosse.

When you travel through the greater La Crosse Area, you will understand why the region is known for its scenic beauty. During the last Ice Age, about 10,000 years ago, nearly two-thirds of North America was covered by a massive sheet of ice. The area included most of Canada and the Northern United States from the New England area to as far west as Montana. In the Upper Midwest this ice mass stopped just short of Western Wisconsin and Eastern Minnesota.

This area, which was not affected by the glacier, is sometimes referred to as the Driftless Region. It encompasses La Crosse County as well as the surrounding counties and beyond.

In May 1823, the first stern wheel paddleboat passed through the area taking passengers to Fort Snelling, Minnesota. This began an era of commerce, which would flourish for many years, as La Crosse became known as the "Gateway City," a focal point for both amphibious and land oriented trade.

Permanent settlement of the La Crosse Area began in 1841, when Nathan Myrick, came north from Prairie du Chien. He built a cabin on Barron Island, just across the east channel of the Mississippi River from what is today, downtown La Crosse. In the spring of 1842, Myrick moved across the river to the mainland and began carrying on trade with the Ho-Chunk and other Native Americans. The site of this first settlement is adjacent to Riverside Park in Historic Downtown La Crosse. Myrick was La Crosse's first mayor and postmaster and is credited with shortening the name from Prairie La Crosse to La Crosse.

The city charter was signed on March 14, 1856 and the area saw growth from steamboat traffic, fur trading, lumber and brewing companies. At one time 25 saw mills were operating in the region, employing more than 4,000 people. From the 1880's to the early 1900's these mills produced hundreds of millions of board feet of lumber, much of which was harvested from forests to the north and east of La Crosse. These boards were floated down river or shipped via rail to Minnesota, Iowa, the Dakotas, Missouri and other areas to the south and west of the region. In 1879, the steamboat docking in La Crosse numbered more than 1,600, the most of any city north of St. Louis.

La Crosse of the 1800s was on the edge of the West. One of the more flamboyant residents was William Fredrick Cody – Buffalo Bill. The legendary scout and showman put on theatrical plays at opera houses, and more than once brought his Wild West Show to La Crosse. Some of the more well-known people who performed with Cody included Annie Oakley, Wild Bill Hickok and the great Sioux Chief Sitting Bull. Cody spent time in La Crosse, living with his friend, Frank Powell. Powell was part Seneca Native American who often went by the name "White Beaver." He was a physician and four term mayor of La Crosse. Powell's home and medical clinic building are both still in use today.

As European settlers migrated to Western Wisconsin, they found a landscape very similar to what they had left behind, especially in Western Europe. The hills and valleys reminded them of "home" and they settled the land and started farming. Homes and farm buildings started to dot the countryside. Over time, a series of mud trails that zig zagged across the countryside developed into a network of paved roads, connecting these dairy farms and the small communities that sprung up in the area. These narrow, winding, roller coaster like, country roads offer scenic vistas and fun routes that are enjoyed for many activities, including motorcycling, road biking or a drive to enjoy the fall color.

The early lumber and brewing industries were the driving force for La Crosse's population as a cultural melting pot with strong influences from Norwegian Lutherans, German Catholics, and Bohemians along with those of Swedish, Polish, English, Irish and Native American ancestry. More recently, individuals of Hmong, Hispanic and African American decent have come to call La Crosse home.

La Crosse has a strong Sister City program which includes relationships with Dubna; Russia; Epinal; France; Luoyang; China; Forde; Norway; Friedberg Germany; Bantry; Ireland and most recently Kumba, Republic of Cameroon, West Africa. The Riverside International Friendship Gardens, located in Riverside Park, offers a tribute to these relationships. The garden is a private / public partnership that provides a beautiful, tranquil setting for reflection, enjoyment and weddings with flowers, plants and architecture unique to each of these countries.

The majestic bluffs and coulees along with numerous rivers and streams make eagle watching, boating, water skiing, fishing, canoeing, kayaking, camping, and bird watching a common occurrence for residents and visitors alike. Each spring and fall over forty percent of all migratory birds in the United States and Canada travel along the Mississippi River Flyway corridor. The region also features wonderful opportunities for hiking, road biking, mountain biking, golfing, site-seeing and historic tours. La Crosse is the largest city on the Mississippi River between the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul to the north, and the Quad Cities, to the south.

Rich in scenic beauty, the community has all the idyllic attributes of small town Americana, with all the amenities of a major metropolitan area. One of the oldest cities in Wisconsin, La Crosse is a diverse blend of regional government, two world class medical facilities, international manufacturing, three award winning institutions of higher learning, a strong agricultural economy and a thriving tourism industry. The area is also a major regional shopping destination, attracting visitors from Minnesota, Iowa, and of course, Wisconsin.

La Crosse is served by Amtrak and freight rail, two major air lines and Interstate 90. Additionally, the Mississippi River continues to be a source of recreational opportunities as well as a commercial transportation corridor for barges carrying commodities such as coal, grain, soybeans, corn and wheat. Products move up and down the river from Minneapolis and St. Paul to New Orleans, and to dozens of locales in between.

MODERN COMMUNITY

La Crosse, Wisconsin, and the surrounding communities attract over one million visitors every year. The region's stunning landscape comes with abundant recreational opportunities, from every imaginable water sport to hiking, biking, hunting, and more. La Crosse's vibrant downtown district offers an excellent variety of shopping, dining, and hospitality options, and the community boasts a rich cultural scene for lovers of art, music, and theatre. Perfect for a weekend visit or two-week vacation—La Crosse has something for everyone!

Hiawatha

Located in Riverside Park, this 25-foot, 25-ton sculpture by artist Anthony Zimmerhahl stands guard over the sacred place where three rivers meet (the Mississippi River, Black River and La Crosse River). Legend says that where three rivers meet, no natural disaster will befall. To date, this legend has remained true.

La Crosse Eagle

This majestic sculpture by artist Elmer Petersen stands 38-feet tall as it watches over the Mississippi River and Riverside Park.

La Crosse Players

Trademark of the city, this sculpture depicts three Ho-Chunk Indians playing the game of their day. It can be found on the Hwy. 53 welcome sign, as well as on the corner of Second and Main streets.

Le Pinau

Symbolizing the history of the city is a copy of a IV Century B.C. Greek statue of a little boy picking "une épine" or thorn out of his foot. Hence the name Epinal. The statue is inspired by a story that as a little boy sat to pull a thorn from his foot, he saw that Epinal was the right place to build a city. The sculpture was a gift from our Sister City of Epinal, France for the 20th Anniversary of our Sister City relationship. The sculpture was placed in Civic Center Plaza in August 2007.

explore DINING

Thanks in part to its storied brewing tradition, La Crosse has always been a place where you didn't have to look too far for a nice fish fry, terrific pub food, or a great slice of pizza. And while that's as true as ever, the city's offering of restaurants includes some excellent options in fine and ethnic dining. You'll find some of the best steak and seafood around at the Freight House Restaurant, a La Crosse institution. The Waterfront Restaurant & Tavern offers fine dining with beautiful views of the Mississippi, and if gourmet barbecue sounds good, Piggy's is a must. If you feel like something ethnic, we have Italian, Creole and Cajun, Mexican, Chinese, traditional Irish, Indian...whatever you're in the mood for, you'll find it here.

Inside Dining Available

How do I love Rudy's Drive-In? Let me count the ways. The smooth, full-bodied root beer, brewed in-house, comes to the car in heavy glass mugs. A triple-stack burger with cheese, lettuce and tomato dubbed the Monster, lives up to its name. The soft-serve ice cream comes in wacky flavors like green apple and bubble gum. The carhops wear roller skates, and on Tuesday nights they don poodle skirts, in honor of classic-car night and its 1950s music. Even the surroundings — long sheltering carports that still retain their original mid 1960s looks — are a blast!

explore SPORTS & RECREATION

Whether you're looking for relaxing, casual entertainment or action-packed, high-energy activities, La Crosse has plenty of both. Spend a day cruising the Mississippi on a speedboat, or, better yet, on the deck of a majestic paddlewheel riverboat like the La Crosse Queen. Hit the trails and trek through the area's abundant marshes and bottomlands or hike to the peaks of the forested bluffs for stunning views of the area. With miles of woodlands and the confluence of three rivers, the La Crosse area is a sportsman's paradise. Winter is a snowsport enthusiast's dream with excellent snowshoeing, downhill and cross-country skiing, and snowmobiling. Sports fans can find someone to root for any time of year, with two universities as well as semi-professional baseball, football, and hockey teams providing family friendly entertainment for all.

AREA PARKS

The La Crosse area features many parks that highlight our area's unique geographical features. From the rivers to the coulees to the bluffs, our parks are sure to meet your recreational needs.

Copeland Park

On the banks of the Black River, located at the corner of Clinton Street and Copeland Avenue.

BIKE TRAILS

The La Crosse area is the destination for bicyclists from across the country. Why? Natural features, beautiful river rides, smooth trails, that's why. La Crosse boasts more bicycling trails than most, with access to 4 major trails right in the heart of Riverside Park! Abandoned railroad tracks, paved milk routes, and rugged off-road, shared use trails make La Crosse a bicycling dream!

- La Crosse River State Trail
- Great River State Trail
- Sparta-Elroy State Trail
- 400 Wisconsin State Trail

BOATING

Why not start your La Crosse adventure on the Mighty Mississippi River? With endless beaches, pristine water skiing, and spectacular sunsets, the La Crosse area has miles of riverfront to begin your journey. La Crosse has multiple municipal harbors and facilities for overnight boat storage. Additionally, the Riverside Park public docks allow boaters to tie up their boat and explore La Crosse. Within a short walk, land lovers will find our famous restaurants, gift shops, and nightlife, or just enjoy a stroll through the park. Contact the La Crosse Area Convention and Visitors Bureau to plan your next excursion. 1-800-658-9424

CANOEING/KAYAKING

From the Mississippi River, our scenic bluffs provide a spectacular backdrop as seen from a kayak or canoe coming across our pristine backwaters. The challenge is to momentarily stop paddling, take it all in, before you lose yourself yet again in the heightened efforts of physical activity that can't be replicated anywhere. And yet you remain a few strokes away from the city. Home to 7 rivers, most are able to be paddled during portions of the year. Popular paddle rivers include the La Crosse, Black, Root, Mississippi, and many more. Visit our web site to learn more at explorelacrosse.com

CAMPING

The greater La Crosse area has several public and private campgrounds to choose from. Some are even accessible by water, such as Goose Island Campground (608-788-7018) and Pettibone Park Resort (800-738-8426), or just find yourself a nice island beach to set up your camp. Other popular campgrounds include Neshonoc Lakeside Camp Resort (888-783-0035), and Veterans Memorial Park in West Salem (608-786-4011). For a complete list of accommodations, visit our website at explorelacrosse.com

SWIMMING

Many local municipalities have recently built or updated their pools, including Holmen, Onalaska, La Crescent, and La Crosse. Indoor pools can be found at the YMCA and some of our local schools, such as UW-La Crosse. In the summer, our river beaches are safe, clean, and have lifeguards. Pettibone Beach is located directly across from Riverside Park and is a local treasure. The Black River Beach has recently undergone improvements, and has outdoor showers and plenty of parking.

FISHING

The Mississippi River, and all its tributaries host one of the largest collections of freshwater fish in the world! Popular game fish include pan fish, northern and walleye pike, catfish, bass, and perch. Soaking a night crawler at the end of your line should keep you busy all afternoon, but if you are seeking more adventure, try our world-class bass fishing waters. Recent host of the Bassmaster Elite Series fishing tournament and many others, anglers are amazed at how many keeper bass they caught in the La Crosse area. At certain times of the year, anglers are routinely pulling trophy northern pike from the waters.

If you have a boat, use it, but if you don't, the La Crosse area has several public fishing areas, such as the popular Riverside and Houska Parks. For a small fee, anglers can fish on several fishing barges (floats). To find out more, visit our web site at www.explorelacrosse.com

Due to a geological effect commonly called the Driftless Area, caused by the lack of a glacier during the ice-age, the greater La Crosse area has miles of fishable trout streams as well. The trout industry is thriving, thanks in part to the public access through the cooperation of many state agencies and private land owners.

All fishable properties are posted by the land-owners, so please respect their rights when chasing a rainbow, brook, or brown trout. Trout season runs spring through early fall, check out the Wisconsin DNR website for exact dates.

GOLF

With a blend of affordable, public access golf courses, and private country clubs, La Crosse has a golf course that is sure to meet your needs. Nestled in the bluffs and woods, La Crosse offers a unique experience for golfers. Peering from the t-box, you may have a river view, a view of Grandad Bluff, or view of our abundant wildlife, just be sure to keep your head down and drive it right down the middle!

HUNTING

Hunters in the La Crosse area chase squirrels, ducks, geese, deer, turkey, and many more varieties of game. There are more than 20,000 acres of public accessible land, plus Mississippi River access for duck and goose hunters.

WINTER ACTIVITIES

Snowy activities include alpine, cross-country skiing, snow shoeing, and sledding. Many local golf courses offer groomed trails for cross-country skiing, such as Drugan's Castle Mound, and Forest Hills. The challenging bluffs attract athletes from around the country that are looking for a challenge in the winter, and can provide great training for those training for races or for fitness.

Snowmobiling is another popular activity, when the weather permits. Over 600 miles of groomed trails await visitors.

Connecting communities across the state, snowmobiling is a great way to witness all the beauty that winter brings. To request a copy of snowmobiling maps, contact the La Crosse Area Convention and Visitors Bureau at 800-658-9424, or check them out online at www.laxsnowmobile.com

TENNIS

Tennis is a thriving recreational sport in La Crosse. The city of La Crosse maintains many free public access courts. To find a list of them all, visit www.cityoflacrosse.com

BIRD WATCHING

More than 200 species of birds live in or pass through the La Crosse Area in a typical year, and travelers don't have to go far to see them. Bald eagles, in fact, have been seen right in Riverside Park near the city's downtown.

The Great River Birding Trail passes right through La Crosse County, and bird-watchers find the viewing is great in several nearby sanctuaries, including Myrick Marsh, Hixon Forest, Goose Island County Park and Nelson Park, which are all in or near La Crosse.

La Crosse County contains a segment of the Upper Mississippi River National Wildlife and Fish Refuge, and more than 300 species of birds can be spotted there, or nearby, as they nest here or migrate through.

Turkeys prowl the woods and fields near La Crosse, delighting hunters and photographers. Waterfowl, especially ducks, gather by the tens of thousands on the Mississippi River and nearby Lake Onalaska each fall, providing thrills for both bird-watchers and hunters.

Tundra swans pass through La Crosse each fall as they make their way from nesting grounds near the Arctic Circle to Chesapeake Bay. They use the Mississippi River Valley as a resting spot before continuing on their 4,000-mile journey.

In 2011, the communities of La Crosse and Trempealeau were recognized as part of Bird City Wisconsin. This is a program that Rewards Communities for creating healthy habitats for birds and people.

EAGLES

They are majestic, historically significant, and present in large numbers in the La Crosse area. We are talking about eagles, of course, and watchers get a thrill every time one is spotted soaring on a breeze, or snagging a meal out of a river, or simply perched on a limb alongside a stream. The most spectacular time of the year for eagle enthusiasts is the late fall and early spring, when the birds follow changing ice conditions on the Mississippi River. They like open water, and more than 150 of them have been spotted at one time, scavenging fish from Lake Onalaska and Richmond Bay on La Crosse's North Side.

The area has several nesting pairs of eagles, and they can be spotted along the Mississippi River and its tributaries in the La Crosse area, and sometimes out in the countryside wherever food might be available.

Wildlife experts encourage everyone to view eagles from a distance, so as not to startle the birds. They also suggest staying in a vehicle, since it will act as a blind because stepping out of the vehicle may well scare the eagles away.

UPPER MISSISSIPPI RIVER NATIONAL WILDLIFE & FISH REFUGE

The La Crosse District Visitor Center for the Upper Mississippi River National Wildlife and Fish Refuge.....608-779-2399

Located in Onalaska on Brice Prairie, five miles north of La Crosse. The Visitor Center is nestled into 186 acres of restored sand prairie. More than two miles of trails wind through the prairie offering visitors a view of abundant wildflowers and wildlife. The paved main trail ends at a new overlook that provides a vista of the bluffs and Lake Onalaska, a backwater of the Mississippi River. Inside the Visitor Center, exhibits and interactive displays highlight the fish and wildlife that call the Refuge home. Naturalists are available to answer questions and recommend places to visit along the Mississippi River and the Refuge which stretches 261 river miles from Wabasha, Minnesota to Rock Island, Illinois. The Refuge Friends Group operates the Prairie Wind Nature Store inside the Visitor Center and offers nature-themed books and gifts for all ages. The Visitor Center is open year-round but hours vary by season. Trails are open daylight to dusk.

Bike Trails:

La Crosse's reputation as a bicycle friendly community continues to grow every year, and it's no wonder. From Riverside Park in downtown La Crosse, you can access the La Crosse River State Trail, which links to three other major state trails, stretching from Marshland to Sparta--over 100 miles in all! These railbed trails are the perfect way to experience the natural wonder of our river and marsh lands. Long-distance road bikers will find the surrounding bluffs to be a more than adequate challenge, and mountain bikers have access to 11 miles of adrenaline-pumping trails in Hixon Forest.

– Farmers Insurance Group

A man in a blue button-down shirt is seen from the back, looking out a large window. He is holding a tablet. Outside the window is a scenic view of a wide river, likely the Mississippi, with a forested island in the middle. In the background, there are rolling hills under a clear sky. The scene is bathed in the warm light of autumn.

explore LODGING

Whether you prefer cozy and quaint or expansive and luxurious, La Crosse has just the right accommodations for you. Need convenience? Grab any of several motels right off I-90. Prefer four- or five-star treatment? Try the Radisson, or Courtyard by Marriott, both right on the Mississippi River. We have historic B&Bs, cozy cabins in the woods, and comfortable lodgings in the heart of downtown--something for every taste in every price range.

The Wisconsin Great River Road

Enjoy history, bluff-top views, outstanding trails and charming river towns along Hwy 35, the Wisconsin Great River Road—Wisconsin's only designated National Scenic Byway.

The Wisconsin Great River Road parallels the Mississippi River for 250 miles from Prescott in the north to Kiel in the south. Along the way, you'll experience some of the most incredible scenery in the Midwest and 33 unique communities, some of which are the oldest in Wisconsin.

You'll find hiking, bicycling, fishing, boating and paddling in the numerous recreational areas along the byway. Nearly two-thirds of the Wisconsin Great River Road passes along or through protected natural areas, providing endless bird-watching opportunities.

Historical markers, museums and visitor centers tell the story of the Wisconsin Great River Road and the people who live and work along the Mississippi River. Scenic overlooks along the Wisconsin Great River Road are some of the best places in North America to see bald eagles.

For an unforgettable family road trip, a great getaway or a weeklong vacation, explore the Wisconsin Great River Road.

For more information on the Great River Road, contact 1-800-658-9424.

— explore EDUCATION

Wisconsin is consistently among the highest-ranked states in the nation with regard to education. It's an integral part of our culture. The importance of a good education begins in preschool and continues through higher education. It is a community-wide dedication.

UNIVERSITIES

UNIVERSITY of WISCONSIN LA CROSSE

The University of Wisconsin-La Crosse, founded in 1909, has roots in teacher and physical education. UW-La Crosse got its start as a teachers' college. UW-L has become more diversified in the past quarter century and boasts an ever-growing athletic national championship tally. It has evolved into one of the top institutions in the UW System — and in the Midwest. UW-L consistently ranks among the top three public universities in the Midwest by U.S. News & World Report and is listed annually in Kiplinger's Top 100 Best Value institutions nationwide. See more at: www.uwlax.edu

Viterbo University, founded by the Franciscan Sisters of Perpetual Adoration in 1890, remains committed to its Catholic Franciscan values and its mission to prepare students for faithful service and ethical leadership. Today, Viterbo offers more than 50 majors and programs for traditional undergraduate, adult and graduate students. Over the past 15 years, university enrollment has doubled, nearing 3,200 students. Construction of a new $15.8 million state-of-the-art nursing facility is being completed which follows several other significant construction projects including a new fitness/recreation center and science and technology center. See more at: www.viterbo.edu

Western Technical College

THE ESSENTIAL EXPERIENCE

Western Technical College, founded in 1912, has provided area employers with a capable workforce for nearly a century. Western currently has six locations in western Wisconsin that serve more than 19,000 students annually. Known for providing quality hands-on training, Western offers associate's degrees and technical diplomas in over 60 programs, including a new transfer degree option — the Associate of Liberal Arts transfer degree — where students can transfer to a 4-year university as a junior. The college also offers short-term certificates as well as a variety of Lifelong Learning courses. See more at: <http://www.westerntc.edu>

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Public School District of La Crosse (lacrosseschools.com)

The School District of La Crosse is a composite of city and rural areas contained in approximately 100 square miles. The district is approximately 15 miles long and 7 miles wide. Included within school district boundaries are the City of La Crosse and parts of the Townships of Medary, Shelby, Greenfield, Bergen, Hamburg, Washington and all of the Town of Campbell. The District stretches from County Trunk B in Medary to School Section Road near Stoddard. The western boundary is the Mississippi River and the eastern most point is near St. Joseph's Ridge. The district has approximately 7,300 students served by:

- Twelve elementary schools
- Four middle schools
- Three high schools, including an alternative, charter high school with campuses at each of the other high schools.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

Catholic:

Independent Schools: 608-784-6167

Providence Academy: Providence Academy is an independent, private, classical academy offered in fidelity to the Magisterium of the Catholic Church. Our mission is to assist parents in the intellectual and spiritual formation of their children Pre-K through 12th grades in a fun, faith-filled environment. Our small classes allow our students to learn vast amounts of difficult material more quickly than contemporary education. At Providence, we believe a classical curriculum is the most effective and proven educational philosophy. Come learn how classical education can prepare your student to succeed in a global world and to be leaders in service to God and humanity.

People who live in La Crosse can't help but be inspired...and they express themselves in a myriad of ways. The arts are alive in this river paradise. There's always a new art exhibit at the Pump House Regional Arts Center. Check out the local thespians at one of the La Crosse Community Theatre's quality productions at the newly constructed Weber Center for the Performing Arts. Toland Theatre at the University of La Crosse-Wisconsin and Viterbo University's Fine Arts Center are often home to excellent theatre productions or concerts as well.

Music enthusiasts will be mesmerized by the La Crosse Symphony, one of the finest in the upper Midwest...and what could be finer than to spend a beautiful, summer Wednesday evening at Riverside Park for a free performance at the band shell by the La Crosse Concert Band? If you're looking for something more up-tempo, La Crosse has a thriving live music scene; nearly every weekend, there's a live band playing at one of our many clubs. From acoustic folk music to pop country to full-tilt rock and roll. Regional festivals offer fun for residents and visitors of all ages.

La Crosse, WI
laxcommfoundation.com

A regional philanthropic leader, assisting donors and their families in supporting area charitable efforts that make La Crosse the great region it is. Foundation grants, from endowment earnings, support local environmental, educational, social, cultural and economic not-for-profit organizations. Recent grants have been issued to the Mississippi Valley Conservancy, The Pump House, City Parks, WisCorps, Dive & Rescue Unit and Habitat for Humanity. The Foundation meets all community foundations standards set by the Council on Foundations.

RELOCATION

God's Country. Two words are all it takes to describe the La Crosse area. The bluffs hold the city in their hands, while the Mississippi, Black and La Crosse rivers provide nourishment and growth to the community.

You could travel the world over, and be hard pressed to find a community as beautiful as La Crosse. Being able to experience all four seasons in this natural grandeur is enough in itself. Add the "small town" feel to the advance in technology, healthcare and education and our cup overflows with opportunity.

La Crosse is home to two nationally renowned healthcare systems, Mayo Clinic Health System-Franciscan Healthcare employs approximately 3,000 people, and Gundersen Health System (the largest employer in the area) with approximately 5,000 employees. In addition, the La Crosse Medical Health Science Consortium is located here. The consortium acts as an education and training facility for students as well as allied health professionals. The consortium also provides research opportunities and assists in the technological advances in the area.

Convention Services

The Convention Services Department is committed to making your job easier and your conference a success by providing full-service planning assistance. Registration, visitor information, referral services, development and planning as well as media and promotion are some of the services we provide. Passkey® powered by GroupMax® is available to planners with a website customized to your event, offering online hotel reservations for your guests in your contracted block as well as mobile web booking, live event tracking with event dashboards and reports. Our Speaker's Bureau includes La Crosse based speakers who appear at events nationally and internationally. Our services are free to groups that utilize a minimum of 50 sleeping rooms on a given night.

Sports

With multiple state-of-the-art sport complexes, any tournament can make its home here. The University of Wisconsin-La Crosse, Viterbo University, Western Technical College, and the La Crosse Center provide multi-sport complexes and an abundance of collegiate playing fields with a variety of surfaces. Annually, La Crosse hosts a multitude of regional and national events; some of which include fishing, baseball, softball, and wrestling tournaments, as well as the WIAA State Track and Field Championships.
